

The background of the cover is a vibrant, artistic illustration. It features a central landscape of rolling green hills and a valley, partially obscured by a soft, hazy atmosphere. Surrounding this central scene are various tropical plants and flowers. Large, colorful lilies in shades of yellow, orange, pink, and purple are scattered throughout. Green palm fronds and other tropical leaves are also visible, some in the foreground and some framing the central scene. The overall color palette is bright and warm, with a mix of natural greens and vibrant floral colors.
